Arm of Woman Found In Monitor Belmont

One of these days the citizens of Belmont expect to find enough of the remains of the late lamented Maggie Brown to hold a funeral. Until that time arrives there will be no formal demonstration of grief at the sudden taking of the lady. Mrs. Maggie Brown was a well known woman who attended to various domestic chores around the Belmont shaft and who had been of her own and therefore considered as being off without incurring any expense. This was done by hanging down the old Monitor Belmont shaft which is now used by the Nevada Wonder Mining company.

FIRE LOSSES FOR 1918

A fire in Brooklyn, the loss of which was a vast quantity of grain intended for shipment to the allies was destroyed. It was discovered that the blaze was the result of a dust explosion caused by a spark either from friction or static electricity. Another conspicuous instance was the Baltimore pier fire which at first was positively ascribed to pro-German plotters. Rigid investigation by federal agents, according to fire marshals, definitely determined its non-inflammatory origin.

Following a reference to the Morgan N. J. disaster in which nearly one hundred lives were lost and $20,000,000 damage done, delegates spoke of the work accomplished the past year by the fire prevention section of the war industries board. This bureau it was stated had inspected more than 2000 large plants valued at over $10,000,000,000 and in a large

ELECTION MUST BE HELD SAYS BOYLE

Thomas Lindsay, chairman of the Nye county board of commissioners, received a telegram this morning from Governor Boyle advising him that the law was mandatory and there was no escape from holding the election for senator on January 17th, the date specified in his first message. The matter is still in abeyance at the court house where the question of procuring supplies is under discussion.

Regardless of how it is done the order of the governor must meet with compliance as it becomes the duty of the commissioners to see that the law is carried out without any attempt to tamper or delay the event. One attorney in discussing the matter this afternoon said that if the commissioners or any other officials failed to do as they were directed they would be in danger of impeachment as they might say with the same form of reasoning that any other law could not be enforced and decline to execute the trust confided in them by the citizens of the county.

STEWART FUNERAL TO OCCUR SUNDAY

A short Masonic funeral service was held over the remains of the late Senator J. W. Stewart this afternoon in San Francisco where Tonopah friends were represented by a wealth of flowers. After the ceremony the casket was placed in a shipping case for transfer to the train for Carson City where the body will be received by relatives and friends from Bridgeport and conveyed to the old home for interment. Among Tonopah people attending the obsequies were J. Grant Crumley and J. W. Conkling. The latter was deputized by the Grand Power company, for which the deceased acted faithfully for so many years, to escort the body to the last resting place and render whatever assistance might be needed to the widow in her sad journey.

Tomorrow a delegation from Tonopah will leave by auto to meet the remains and attend the formal obsequies Sunday afternoon at Bridgeport.

The League secretary of the navy has been captured, but the Wilson secretary is still at large. He favors a big navy when the program decided upon a year ago has not yet been touched.

In dewatering the property. The disappearance occurred last spring when snow still remained on the ground and the footprints of the woman were traced directly to the collar of the shaft. Still there was nobody who saw the woman jump and there was room for doubt until about six weeks ago when a woman's skull was recovered from the shaft. Recently Charles Bottomley found a woman's arm hanging to the lagging of the shaft. As the water sinks under vigorous pumping, it is believed the trunk and remainder of the body will be brought to light but no special effort will be made to hasten the process of dewatering.

percentage of cases the "safety" recommendations of its volunteer dollar-a-year engineers were carried out. It was stated that fire prevention methods adopted for the sixteen large army cantonments throughout the United States had proved most effective although these camps consisted of wooden buildings. Hazards were reduced to the minimum by proper watchfulness, water protection, isolation, conducting and enforcement of regulations in regard to smoking and the use of matches and lights.

H. C. Bradley, one of the speakers, said New York City was in imminent peril of a great conflagration when on November 7, after the erroneous report of the German surrender, a "curse" of paper was thrown from the windows of business buildings, setting the streets to a depth of several inches, and many miles of ticker tape covering telegraph and telephone wires constituted a fire hazard of the first power. Fire Chief Kenyon of New York City declared that if a serious blaze had started at that time, or on November 11, four days later when the scenes of pandemonium were repeated, all New York City might have been laid in ashes. The fire departments would have been crippled also, he said, by the crowds of traffic congestion in the streets. As one of the delegates expressed it, "This was invited the greatest loss of life and property, perhaps, in American history."

GOLDFIELD HAS WATER FAMINE

Unless great care is exercised in the use of water for the next few days, Goldfield will become dry from the standpoint of both "wets" and prohibitionists, for a shortage of water is threatened as a result of the burning of the water company's No. 1 pump station at 10:30 last night.

The pumping engine was put out of commission and the engine house destroyed by the fire, which is believed to have started through the engine backfiring.

Another pump and engine have been secured and will be put in place Thursday night, so that the water will be turned on Friday, according to present plans. The damage caused by the fire, including expenses for installing the new pump and engine, are estimated at over $5000 by L. F. Detweiler of the water company.

JUDGE GRIER HAS SWELLED HEAD SINCE TAKING OFFICE

It is only a coincidence but it is one that attracted a good deal of attention around town that shortly after taking office the good natured Judge Grier should have developed a case of swollen head. The affliction is a physical one and there is no alteration in the mental poise of the new justice. He is recovering from a very painful experience of blood poisoning caused by an effort of a barber to remove an ingrowing hair on the left cheek bone. In course of the work the sore became infected and for two days the court was going around with a much magnified bone box.

BANK BUFFET MOVING TO MASONIC TEMPLE BUILDING

The place will be furnished as one of the most attractive lunch rooms and rest rooms for ladies and families and will open January 10th.

H. D. At the same time plans will be adopted for conducting an active campaign to secure the election of Mrs. Olive Stewart in the event of there being a contest through the Democrats placing a candidate in nomination. Owing to the departure of Mr. W. W. Booth to attend the funeral it was the sense of the committee expressed informally this afternoon that he convey the wishes of the citizens of Nye county that she consent to run for the vacancy. The message will be conveyed to Mrs. Stewart at Bridgeport, Cal.

VETERAN ORE BUYER DIES OF PNEUMONIA

George Robert Miller, prominent mine and millman of Nevada and superintendent of plants for the Western Ore Purchasing company since 1902, died Wednesday at his home in Reno from pneumonia. He had been ill for the past two years and was in poor health when he contracted pneumonia four days ago, according to the Gazette.

Mr. Miller came to Nevada from Boulder, Colo. in 1902, with Charles Snyder, who formed the original company that was later called the Western Ore Purchasing company. He was superintendent of the Reno plant of the company which was destroyed by fire in 1907 and was also connected with the plants of the company in both Millers and Goldfield.

When the company built a plant at Millers about two years ago he took charge of it and was superintendent of that plant at the time of his death. He was 44 years old, a native of Wisconsin, and leaves a widow, one son, Richard Miller, and his mother, besides several brothers and sisters. He was a member of the Boulder, Colo. lodge of Elks.

BODIE STAGE LINE FROM THORNE ENDS

For seventeen years C. B. Burdick, veteran stage owner of Hawthorne, carried the mail from Thorne on the Southern Pacific railroad at the end of Walker lake to the old mining camp of Bodie traveling over the famous Lucky Boy toll road, first with horses and a big Concord stage and in later years by automobile.

During the past few weeks the mail routes have all been changed and mail now goes into Bodie and surrounding country by way of Bridgeport. Burdick no longer conducts a stage line but is devoting his time to mining. He is in Reno today on business and says that conditions have changed considerably since he first became associated with his father in the old stage line, says the Reno Gazette.

In 1881 the old C. & C. road was completed to Hawthorne and in order to get the business from Bodie, Aurora and other camps in that vicinity, the railroad company built the toll road over the summit on the road leading from Hawthorne to Bodie.

Stage lines soon began operating as it was a better road by way of the toll road to the railroad connection at Hawthorne than by way of Carson City, which was the terminus of the former route. It was not long until all the mail was routed this way and the mail carrying contract was a valuable asset for any stage company.

Of course, Aurora and Bodie had passed through their boom days by this time, but there were thousands of people in that district then and once the mail started going in by way of Hawthorne it was hard to change it and stage companies have operated continuously since that time.

Later when the C. & C. was broad gauged and the Southern Pacific changed the route leaving Hawthorne seven miles from the nearest railroad line station, Thorne, the stage companies brought the mail to Hawthorne and thence on to Bodie. Now the only stage operating is between Thorne and Hawthorne.

TELEPHONE COMPANY SETTLES TAX BILL

Through the good offices of Harry H. Atkinson, district attorney, a settlement of overdue and contested taxes has been brought about with the Nevada Tel. Tel. company. The taxes have been the subject of much friction for a period of years extending from 1913 to date and a suit still pending in the supreme court which will be allowed to go through to a decision for the purpose of establishing a precedent for the guidance of the county administration. The taxes settled last Saturday were for the years 1914-15 and 1916 and the adjustment was based on the valuation by the state tax commission for 1917. The payment which included a 10 per cent penalty amounted to $1975.

WHAT'S WHAT

By L. L. MUSHETT

Vol. 2, Tonopah, Jan. 9, 1919, No. 2

With this issue we resume the publication of a high class advertising paper. The Tonopah Machinery company will back up any statement that I make and does hereby solemnly promise to deliver the goods at any time and any place. We shall specialize on the Sullivan Machinery company's line of compressors, drills and sharpeners. Ask Sullivan customers any where in the world and they'll tell you that they excel in every way. The DR 6 is a big husky hard rock drill that simply bores through the hardest rock without an effort, hence the low up-keep costs. Don't take my word for it, let us give you a trial and if we don't outdrill the machine you are using from 25 to 50 per cent with less air we'll take our machine home and nothing said. We have a line of valveless stoppers coming out that have been perfected, after years of study by the master minds of the Sullivan force of mechanical experts.

We want your business and we are ready to go the limit in providing service. If you don't believe it ask us to do something for you or to dig up a replacement for some piece of broken machinery and see if we don't find it if it's to be had in these parts. We're in the business to stick and to do so we know we simply must give satisfaction.

DUNSEATH CANCELS OFFER OF BUILDING

Harry Dunseath has withdrawn his offer to sell his former justice court building to the county for $1000 on monthly payments of $50 for the reason that he believes he can do better by holding on. In the meantime he will rent the premises to Justice Harry Grier who will occupy them for one month at least. During that time the town board will advertise for bids so that all property owners may have a chance to compete on equal terms. The board still adheres to the resolution to house the chief of police and justice in one building owned by the town but for the next 30 days no change will be made in the present arrangements.
